Ellis County Partners with Midlothian to plan the Third Annual Preparedness Fair in September

May 28, 2019, Midlothian, Texas - Ellis County Emergency Management Coordinator Samantha Pickett, along with Emergency Management Planner Ralph Mulvany, met with Midlothian Fire Chief Dale McCaskill, Midlothian Emergency Management Coordinator Captain John Spann, and other officials to begin the planning phases for the Ellis County and Midlothian Third Annual Preparedness Fair.

"The goal is to provide an inviting environment for our citizens to come and be educated on emergency preparedness. We are offering food, fun, games, and prizes that are all centered around equipping the public for potential emergency situations." - Emergency Management Coordinator Samantha Pickett.

The Emergency Management team has invested a series of planning sessions in order to bring to the public a highly engaging, family centered fair. They believe every citizen should take action and be prepared for any potential emergency that might affect where we live, work, and visit. As September is National Preparedness Month, they are pushing to increase community awareness and the importance of being alert and ready for all situations.

The Emergency Management team is actively seeking to showcase local businesses to the residents of Ellis County. Vendor applications are available at the the Ellis County Emergency Management office, 101 W. Main Street, Waxahachie TX, 75165. Email applications are also available upon request at EMC@co.ellis.tx.us.
