TexasSpeaks: Identifying the Strengths and Needs of Texas Communities

Waxahachie, TX (March 8, 2021) — TexasSpeaks is an online survey conducted by Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service with the purpose of listening to Texas citizens as they identify the strengths and needs of their communities.

The goal of TexasSpeaks is to engage as many Texas citizens as possible to create the most accurate and helpful data to support Texas communities at both the state and local levels.

Please take the time (no more than 10 minutes) to complete this anonymous survey which will help Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service identify issues to our program development and offers an open feedback section for you to provide additional observations/insights/suggestions/concerns. You will have the opportunity to receive more information from the Ellis County Extension office.

About Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service

With a vast network of 250 county Extension offices and some 900 professional educators, the expertise provided by the Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service is available to every resident in every Texas county. Extension works with a variety of partners — individuals, businesses, private-sector clubs and organizations, and other government agencies — to bring educational opportunities to the people of Texas. We welcome the opportunity to collaborate with new partners to improve the quality of life for Texans across the state.
